BACKGROUND

The Terrorism Risk Insurance Act of 2002 ("TRIA" or the "Act") was enacted by Congress to recognize that terrorism is a catastrophe exposure that is real and significant for insurers of workers compensation and other lines of insurance. As a result of TRIA, a catastrophe provision was added to Rule 3-A-24-a of NCCI’s Basic Manual for Workers Compensation and Employers Liability Insurance. TRIA, which expired on December 31, 2005, was extended by the Terrorism Risk Insurance Extension Act of 2005 ("TRIEA") for two years. Congress has now enacted the Terrorism Risk Insurance Program Reauthorization Act of 2007 ("TRIPRA") to extend the Act to December 31, 2014. Therefore, the catastrophe provision in Rule 3-A-24-a of NCCI’s Basic Manual is being revised to remove the expiration date and replace it with “and any amendments thereto enacted by Congress.”

IMPACT

There is no change in premium as a result of this item.

In states where NCCI is the Plan Administrator, this item is applicable to assigned risk policies as well as voluntary policies.

Additionally, Arkansas law does not permit NCCI to file rules and rates on its members’ behalf. Therefore, insurance carriers must make an independent filing with the Arkansas Insurance Department electing to adopt, or not adopt, an item filing filed by NCCI and subsequently approved by the Department. When such a filing is made with the Department, make sure that the NCCI item filing number (not the NCCI circular number) is referenced.
