
Indemnity Data Call—Reporting Begins Second Quarter 2020

With the implementation of the Indemnity Data Call quickly approaching, data providers must ensure that their systems are in place to capture all data elements, in order to meet the reporting obligation beginning with indemnity claim activity occurring in Second Quarter 2020, due to be reported to NCCI by the end of Third Quarter 2020.

NCCI continues to work with carriers and business partners authorized to report on your behalf (vendors, third party administrators, etc.) as we prepare for the initial reporting of the Call.

Certification testing, which began in January, is a key milestone of Indemnity Data Call reporting because all Call reporters are required to be certified prior to production reporting. Please refer to the Certification Readiness Circular (IND-2019-03) on ncci.com for the three-step process: Setup, Testing, and Approval. This circular identifies what data needs to be included in each certification test file and how to submit your file to NCCI.

The Electronic Transmission User's Guide provides testing procedures and helps to get you set up with Secure FTP software and testing procedures. It also includes the Data Provider Profile form that is required in order to submit data for the Call, in addition to the Service Provider Forms. These forms are only required if a Service Provider is used to report data on a carrier's behalf.

NCCI has also posted Indemnity Data Call-hosted webinars, which can be found in our Learning Center on ncci.com. These webinars highlight the Certification Process—Mapping Your Data and Editing. Additional webinars will be posted later this year.

The Indemnity Data Collection tool was launched to support the electronic certification process. The tool will also be available for production reporting. We are currently updating the Indemnity Data Collection Tool User's Guide, which provides instructions on how to navigate through the tool, and includes detailed information on the certification process. The updated guide will be available soon on the Indemnity Data Call page on ncci.com.
